Peternakan Sapi Perah di Jawa

Video Duration: 11:17

Slides: 60

Price: $25.95

We spend an afternoon with a smallholder dairy in East Java. The dairy farmer and his family have six cows and various other livestock. The animals are kept in stalls and are fed a variety of feedstuffs, much of which is sourced from local vegetable markets. Milking is done by hand. The dvd enables students to obtain an understanding of the animal production system in Indonesia and some appreciation of the life of the smallholder animal producer.

Produksi Tomat

Video Duration: 10:02

Slides: 43

Price: $25.95

Intensively farmed with high labour input, the production of tomatoes from planting to harvest and packing is depicted within the dvd. Tomato production is typical of much of Indonesian vegetable production and agriculture in general. The dvd provides an insight into the not only agricultural production but also the working lives of much of the Indonesian population. Even with economic development, most Indonesians continue to work directly in agriculture, the majority as landless labourers.

Perjalanan naik Kereta Api ke Malang

Candi Prambanan: 24

Yogyakarta has been central to Javanese culture and political power for many centuries. This is reflected in the many historical sites that exist within the Yogyakarta region. None is more spectacular than Borobudur, the largest Buddhist temple in the world.

Borobudur is a major tourist attraction and we explore the history and the meaning of this mighty construction. It was lost for centuries and rediscovered in the early 19th century while the British ruled the Dutch East Indies, during the Napoleonic occupation of the Netherlands.

Two versions of the Borobudur video are provided. The longer version discusses more of the spiritual underpinnings to the meaning of Borobudur.

Not far from Borobudur is Candi Prambanan, the major Hindu temple complex in Indonesia, reflecting the waves of religious and cultural influences that permeated Javanese life. Beautiful in its own right, the temple complex gives some feeling of the economic and political power that existed within Java in the centuries before invasion by European powers.

Pemetik CabePrice: $25.95

Video Duration: 10:30

Slides: 49

Agriculture is still the major occupation of Indonesians. This video takes us into the working lives of Indonesian landless labourers. We follow the working day of a group of women picking chillies. Landless labourers in rural Indonesia are poor, being paid very little. Work is seasonal and sporadic. Yet there is happiness and cheerfulness that is beguiling.
